

- Square dancers who work as volunteers, unrecognized, in support of square dance activities such as jamborees senior rest homes.
- Square dancers who are not callers but fill in for callers for extended periods of times often taking no compensation.
- Square dancers who start new square dance activities where there were none.
- Square dancers who are willing to try new ideas as the old traditional ones are ineffective and outdated.

During these times technology growth and decline in Square Dancing, let us focus our attention to support on the new and experienced dancers. They are a source of pride and the reason we have square dance clubs today. Once again a very special thank you to the many callers and dancers who's viewpoints touched the hearts and life blood of square dancing, the Club Dancers. It is by thanking and encouraging them that square dancing will survive.
